Harmony and the School Board

Harmony is where the heart is.

If some great philosopher didn't say that—he should have.

Harmony is where there is in the Lemon Grove Elementary school district—all things considered.

And harmony is what there is too little of in some of the other districts.

This approach is not as oblique as it appears to the subject of the Lemon Grove school board election set for April 18. Deadline for filing for the post is March 3.

The terms of two sterling members of the board expire this year and each has indicated that he will serve again.

One, Robert Sjogren, a successful attorney, has brought to the board a legal flavor on matters that required it. He has been strongly opposed to the present unification plan—a plan that would lump this happy little district in with those who are suffering from turmoil and travail.

The other, Lyle Stumbaugh, a Certified Public accountant, who has been on the board four years, has been able to breakdown governmental financial jargon for the lay people who attend board meetings so that it becomes understandable—as much as government financing can be understood.

This publication is impressed with the harmony that exists at the meetings. The disagreements are varied and many. Some have kept the board in session until near midnight. But when the argument is over they get back to the subject at hand—that of seeing that the district's policies allow for an efficient operation. And there is no recriminatory carry-over.

This is reported only as a reminder. It should be said more often than it is that trustees get no pay what so ever. In addition to their semi-monthly board meetings, they also give up many nights to attend other meetings in connection with school district interests.

It is difficult to understand how a person can be so dedicated that he would willingly sacrifice that much time to a non-paying job—unless the determination comes from the warmth of his affection for children, and education, and for the knowledge that an imperfect system is made better by people who care.

Let it be noted that Lemon Grove's teachers' starting wages are among the lowest in the area. The average salary, however, is near the highest. The latter is because there is a higher percentage of qualified teachers on the rolls.

This indicates that beginners are attracted by the district's character.

As they become qualified for the higher pay scales they stay here. The low turn-over makes the average high.

All of which helps make a happy picture of a harmonious district.

We're Spilling the Beans

It is a great tribute to automotive engineers and manufacturers that motorists are buying news cars in the east county at a faster clip than ever before.

The federal government, for whatever its logic, had publicized guidelines for engineering safety before ascertaining whether deadlines could be met, or indeed, whether its recommendations were usful.

In spite of the adverse government publicity given to the current crop of cars whenever a manufacturer did what he has been doing for years — calling back certain styles for change or modification — east county motorists have been buying cars in such great numbers that dealership expansions are popping up all over the place.

In the mighty race for leadership of the east county auto market the Ford dealership in Lemon Grove is ready-

Dental Health Week Job Goes to Dr. Hart

A Lemon Grove resident has been assigned a key role in the San Diego County Dental Society's 19th annual observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 5-11.

Dr. William L. Hart, who maintains his practice at 1834 Skyline Dr., has been appointed Lemon Grove area chairman for the celebration, which serves to point up the importance of good dental health among all children.

A native of Long Prairie, Minn., Dr. Hart received his undergraduate training at the University of Minnesota and his D.D.S. degree from the University of Iowa Dental School.

During the Korean conflict, he served at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and also saw duty aboard the aircraft carrier Kearsarge.

In announcing Dr. Hart's appointment, Dental Health Week chairman Dr. William R. Helps said the 1967 observance stresses the fact that preventive dentistry among children is the most beneficial denistry.

Dentists, other professionals, civic leaders and educators will mark the annual Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 8 with a luncheon in the U. S. Grant Hotel.

Principal speaker at the affair, which is expected to attract some 500 guests, will be Dr. J. Sydney Gaynor, chairman of the Council on Dental Health of the Los Angeles Dental Society.

'Abusive Calls' Bill Author Greeted With Abusive Calls

WASHINGTON — Menacing telephone calls and the premature disclosure of election results were targeted in bills introduced by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin of this district.

Even before the measures reached thestudy stage, Van Deerlin, and his family, became subjects of threatening calls. The FBI took up the case immediately. The threats, presumably, were due to his opposition to the seating of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, a Democrat of Harlem. Both measures are expected to be sent for possible action to Van Deerlin's own Subcommittee on Communications and Power.

The legislation to crack donw on abusive, obscene or threatening phone calls would apply to all calls made across state lines or within the District of Columbia. Van Deerlin said a federal law is needed o complement the statutes of the 38 states, including California, which now specifically prohibits abusive calling.

Van Deerlin's bill would provide jail terms of up to six months and/or maximum fines of $500 upon conviction.

The Congressman said that the telephone, a valuable instrument in the daily business and personal lives of most Americans, "unfortunately can provide a ready cloak of anonymity for the sort of person who gets satisfaction from frightening other people."

The scope of the problem is shown in a report by the Bell Telephone System, which estimates it receives 375,000 complaints a year about abusive calls. In one recent month, nearly 5,000 such calls were reported in California.

Van Deerlin's other measure would curb the practice of some broadcasters of issuing election results while the polls remain open. The bill, applying to elections held within the states, would prohibit disclosure of resuls until all the polling places for these elections were closed.

Van Deerlin said there is considerable evidence that the too early reporting of returns has discouraged maximum voter turnouts in California and other states where voting places close at different hours.

Small Business Administration Plans Workshop

The Small Business Administration will offer a half-day workshop for people planning to start businesses of their own. No fees of any kind will be charged. The meeting will be held in the third floor Conference Room of the San Diego Public Library, 8th and "E" Streets, in downtown San Diego, from 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, January 24.

The meeting is to better prepare individuals who never before owned and operated a business of their own. Many "do's and don'ts" will be brought to their attention throughout the proceedings. John Quimby, regional director, said SBA's aid is to inform the potential businessman of the advantages in becoming his own boss, while at the same time pointing out some of the "pitfalls" in owning and operating a business. Questions will be answered after each presentation as well as at the end of the day.

Interesting and important discussions will be held on such subjects as finance, record keeping, taxes, site location, insurance coverage, franchising, general administrative and management decision making matters, and the best form of business structure to select.

Those who wish further details, may write, phone or visit the SBA's Regional Office located at 110 West "C" Street.

Sheriff's Jobs Deadline Near

Applications for the position of Deputy Sheriff must be filed by 5 p.m. tonight.

Sheriff J. C. O'Connor is looking for high school graduates between 21 and 33 to establish an eligibility list for present and future vacancies.

The starting salary is $61(monthly. Applications are available at the County of San Diego's Department of Personnel, Room 403 County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego.

Sheriff O'Connor said it is becoming more difficult to find qualified men. Candidates must be 5 ft., 9 in., weigh at least 150 lbs. and have resided in the State of California for one year immediately preceding date of application.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Sheriff's Department (232-3811) or any Deputy Sheriff, or the San Diego County Personnel Department at 239-7711, Extension 391.

Question-Answer Discussion Solves Quarantine Inquiries

Since the extended rabies quarantine became effective throughout San Diego County on New Year's Day, the San Diego Department of Public Health has reported a flood of questions from dog owners.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said yesterday that many of the questions are related to vaccine and vaccination requirements. He gave the following answers to questions the health department has received:

Do dogs have to be revaccinated if they were originally out of the state?

Yes, unless the owner can show proof that the dog has been vaccinated since Oct. 1, 1965, with the two-year vaccine.

Is it all right if you give a dog a rabies shot while she is nursing puppies?

Yes.

Why does the law specify that dogs over four months of age must be vaccinated against rabies — because they cannot contract the disease until this age?

No. Even puppies can be infected with the disease and become rabid. The law sets four months as the age to start vaccinations, because younger dogs are not fully developed to build immunity from a vaccination. Puppies under four months of age must be restricted at all times so they cannot run loose.

Why is it that cats in the San Diego area are not required to have licenses and vaccinations?

Because cats seldom transmit rabies. If a rabid dog chases a cat, the cat either escapes the dog completely or, if caught, is usually destroyed by the dog.

Why can't dog owners, particularly owners of a number of dogs, give their own rabies vaccinations instead of having to transport the dogs to a veterinarian?

As legal proof that a dog has been vaccinated the law requires a certificate of vaccination signed by a veterinarian who has been registered to practice veterinary medicine in the State of California. Veterinarians know how to vaccinate dogs effectively. Most dog owners do not. Enforcement of a rabies control program in which dog owners vaccinate their own dogs would be cumbersome and probably impossible.

If a dog has been vaccinated, is he safe from rabies when used to hunt?

He is probably safe from rabies, but it must be remembered that no vaccine is 100% effective. Rabies vaccine is believed to be about 99% effective. Your dog could be the one in 100 that is not protected by vaccination. In any case, your dog should not be used to hunt in San Diego County now unless it is on a leash. Under the extended rabies quarantine, no dog may run loose in any part of the county at any time.

When and where can dogs be inoculated against rabies?

Dogs may be vaccinated against rabies by any private veterinarian throughout the year. The San Diego Department of Public Health sponsors public nonprofit dog vaccination clinics in the City of San Diego each December through the cooperattion of the San Diego County Veterinary Medical Association. The clinics were held last month on Dec. 5, 6 and 7. Information on vaccination clinics in other parts of the county may be obtained from the San Diego County Livestock Department.

Central Committee Names GOP Leaders

Assemblyman John Stull (R-Leucadia) has announced his appointments to the Republican State Central Committee for the 1967-68 term. Named were Mrs. Robert Copher of Oceanside, Mrs. Frank Driggs and Mrs. Cuyler Anderson of Rancho Santa Fe, Mrs. Allen Fromiath and Byron Peterson of Escondido, Gordon Luce of La Jolla, Robert Grice of Del Mar and Robert Pankey of Fallbrook.

CHANGE OF COMMAND — Mrs. Robert Davy, outgoing neighborshood chairman of the Lemon Grove Girl Scout District hands the gavel of leadership to incoming chairman, Mrs. Paul McCormick.

'Dimes' Campaign Seeks Volunteers

"Can you spare an hour to save a child?"

Mrs. Walter Schirra and Mrs. Mitchell Angus, co-chairmen of the 1967 Mothers' March, asked this question yesterday as they appealed for women throughout the county of San Diego to volunteer for the traditional event which climaxes the March of Dimes campaign on Jan. 31.

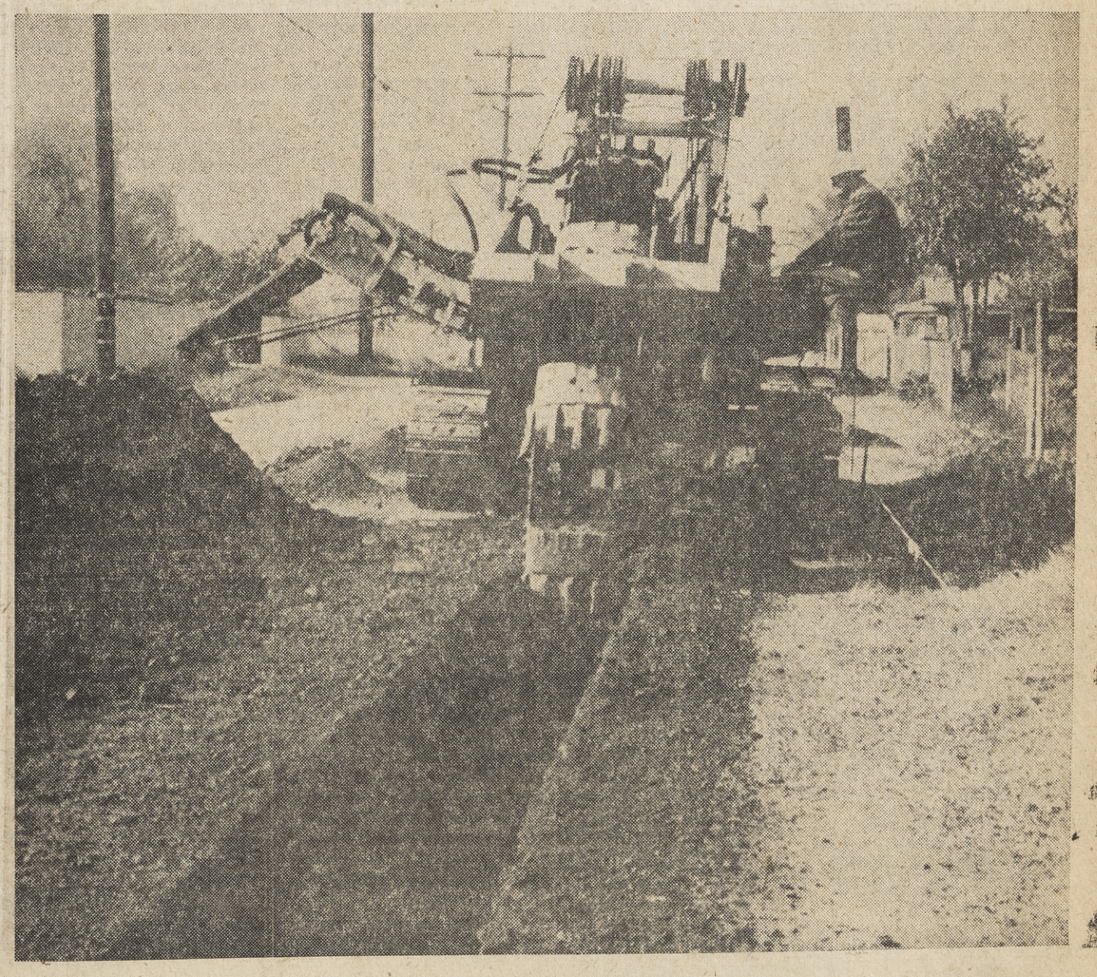
"An hour or less is all the time most volunteers will need to call on their neighbors seeking support of the March of Dimes fight against birth defects," said Mrs. Schirra, mother of astronaut Wally Schirra, who resides at 3601 Lotus Dr., San Diego. "And this hour can mean so much to the future of some unborn child.

"While the March of Dimes seeks prevention of birth defects through medical-scientific research," said Mrs. Schirra, "emphasis is also being placed on rehabilitating the child who is born with a defect."

Mrs. Angus, who lives at 5482 Drover Dr., San Diego, pointed out that a great many expectant mothers fail to receive proper prenatal care, often through ignorance or lack of adequate facilities and such women run the highest risk of giving birth to stillborn or premature babies. Funds raised in the Mothers' March will go to expand a nation-wide education program on the importance of such medical attention during pregnancy.

"Please help us to continue this child-saving work by volunteering as a Mothers' Marcher," she concluded.

The San Diego County chapter of the March of Dimes is located at 3606 Fourth Ave., San Diego, Calif. The phone number is 296-3187.



AREA IMPROVEMENTS — In the above construction pictures the San Diego Gas and Electric Company is shown as they dig a four-foot trench on Lester St. Lemon Grove. The project involves the replacement of a 1922 1-inch gas line, with modern equipment, for city improvement. The men installed a 2 inch pipe in the excavation.

Read Matthew 13:31-35

While the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. (Luke 5:1, RSV.)

The church speaks best through contemporary language. Just as the New Testament was first written in the language of the marketplace and the highway, so the good news, concerning Jesus Christ is best delivered today in the vernacular of the common man. The sale of millions of copies of new translations of the Bible witnesses to us that the people want the Christian message in the language of today.

The people pressed upon Jesus to hear the word of God because He spoke to their need in terms they could understand. In the Gospel of Mark we read that "the great throng heard him gladly." Jesus' simple words and homespun illustrations have lived across nineteen centuries and still speak with power to modern people.

The church communicates best through language which people best understand.

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the many men and women who have toiled and sacrificed to give us the Bible in our own native tongue. Help us to study it with the same earnest enthusiasm. May the truth we discover here guide us through this day. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: People listen when the church makes the gospel of Jesus Christ revelant.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What is a "Boleada?" In Spanish, the word "boleada" means "Shoeshine." In most of the "Pueblos" (towns) and "Ciudades" (cities) in Mexico and Latin America "El Boleador" (The shoeshine boy) is a popular symbol of the independent businessman. He may be seen with his shoeshine box tucked under his arm on almost any corner. His eyes are alert for anyone who may use his services.

Once he sees a prospect he will call out "Boleada, Senor!" (Shine, Mister!) He may follow up his offer for service by saying "Solamente un peso." (Only one peso.)

Most prospects accept the offer and have a shoeshine whether they need it or not. After all, one peso is only eight cents in United States currency. And where can you get a shine for only eight cents these days?

Some of the expressions you might use with the "Boleador" are found in today's lesson. Read them over and pronounce them from the phonetic guide provided after each phrase. Then you may wish to confirm your pronounciation by practicing the same expressions with the two-minute recording which may be heard on your home telephone when you dial 276-2762.

Important Expressions:

Say "Boleada, Senor?" (boh-leh-AH-thah sehn YOHR)

for "Shine, Mister?"

Say "Como no." (KOH-moh noh) for "Why not."

Other Expressions:

Say "Cuanto?" (koo-AHN-toh)

for "How much?"

Say "Solamente un peso." (soh-lah-MEHN-teh uhn PEH-soh)

for "Only one peso."

Common Expressions:

Say "Tarda mucho?" (TAHR-dah MOO-cho)

for "Does it take long?"

Say "Tarda dos minutos" TAHR-day dos mee-NOO-tohs) for "It takes two minutes.".

L.G. Students Outstanding At Oregon U.

Three students from Lemon Grove are attracting recognition at Oregon State University. They are: Michael Foote, sophomore, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Foote, 2890 Cypress Ave.; Carole Brown, sophomore; daughter of Mrs. Frieda Brown, 3242 Buena Vista Ave. and Wally Johnson, freshman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Johnson, 1918 Longdale St.

Mike and Wally are attending Oregon State on full athletic scholarships. Mike lettered in football this season on the varsity squad as defensive end. He was also selected as outstanding defensive player in the OSU-Idaho game. Wally also had an outstanding year in football as captain of the defensive squad and linebacker on the freshman squad.

Carole, not to be outdone by the athletes, is attending Oregon State on an academic scholarship. She received outstanding recognition by achieving straight A's (4.0 gpa) this year.

All three graduated from Mount Miguel High School, where they were outstanding in various fields in their classes. Another happy coincidence is that Mike and Carole plan to get married this year. They became engaged last summer.

Tax Tips

The California Society of Certified Public Accountants have supplied a list of items to watch on personal Federal Income Tax returns. The Society claims overpayment can be avoided in the following areas if taxpayers watch for the following things.

"Other Deductions" Save Dollars

The 1966 U. S. individual return provides space to itemize "other deductions" but gives little clue to what they are. Here is a partial list of allowable deductions:

Expense of child care or care of other dependent persons necessary to permit you to work in a few limited cases.

Losses from casualty or theft;

Expenses of education related to your employment in certain cases;

Alimony and separate maintenance payments in most cases

Investors' expenses connected with management of income producing property or the collection of income;

Expenses connected with and necessary to employment such as union or professional society dues, agency fees, tools, special clothing, but not including cost of getting back and forth to work; ing a gargantuan expansion but a shroud of secrecy has been hung over its plans.

Professional fees paid for preparation of income tax returns.

The Dimmer View

Pat Grace, the firm's owner admitted only that "we're polishing the place up for Spring".

Grace has been owner since Jim Spears died four years ago and was general manager since the firm's inception back in 1956. Under him, the place has become one of the most active Ford agencies in the county. Many of the promotions under Grace have had "surprise" elements. No doubt he has another big surprise waiting to be revealed when he feels it is timely.

Through a contractor it was learned that concrete footings are in the process of being dug on the freeway side of the Broadway-Massachusetts facility. An architect revealed that "at least $100,000" is already scheduled for "a project." Some of Spears employees have been given a chance to help choose a new name that would fit in with current "technical and economical" needs. W know that at least two of the names being suggested by employes are Crosstown Ford and Fiesta Ford.

As hesitant as we are to give away the "secrets" of Mr. Grace and Company, it is to the interest of area residents to know what's going on in the community — and so we have spilled the beans.

It is also our wish to commend the dealership for its faith in the community of Lemon Grove and to extend best wishes for a successful undertaking.

A Voice For Moderation

The Board of Governors of Grossmont College was thwarted in their valiant effort to keep the Communist editor M. I. Laski off the Grossmont campus last week.

Laski, and his proponents, made a point for our side, however, when they defied college authority and presented the program in spite of the ban.

The point that was made by the action is that obedience to law and order is not part of the philosophy of Communists. Much youthful lawlessness is the result of campus uprisings. As disobedience grows we will enter a period of anarchy—after which comes total communism—because in this maelstrom of anarchy the Reds would be able to set their cells and the takeover would be as complete as it would be easy.

It has been reported that the students who defied the ban cannot be expelled. That is too bad. Supporters of the world's largest educational system are entitled to something more for their support than communism on campus; four letter word uprisings; anti-war parades—and education leaders who are attempting to panic the public by threatening the collapse of the school system simply because our new governor suggested that consideration should be given to charging tuition.

It is not possible to see what rationale can be offered for presenting Laski on the Grossmont campus after his appearance had specifically been banned.

Academic freedom? Like academic freedom to drive 90 miles an hour while being drunk?

Someone must use his brains while exercising the privilege of freedom.

Maybe that is one reason why the board of trustees stiffened its backbone last week and rejected the appearance of Laski.

They, we suppose, as we, have become bored with hearing complaints that there have been infringements of Constitutional rights on things that are not Constitutional rights at all.

Too often, in the press, on the campus, and even in civil rights activity there comes a cry of anguish where there is no real point of pain.

We are reminded of a recent case in point. A showman took his recording equipment somewhere and produced a tape that was said to have on it the voice of Jack Ruby. When questioned about the material, the voice, and the source, he imposed a "freedom of the press" silence. If losing that tape—which is almost as bad in showmanship as it is bad in taste—constitutes losing our Constitutional freedoms then the Lord needs to help us.

And so it is when the academic freedom outcry comes. or when some elements of civil liberties are raked together under the canopy of civil rights. It has been too seldom said that civil rights gives to individual the right to try to attain anything he wants. It doesn't give him the right to have it just because he wants it.

Academic freedom permits students and faculty the right to offer anything useful. We are often misled into believing that controversial garbage is useful when it isn't even interesting.

The Berkeley uprisings apparently have caused trustees to see some of these asinine matters in better perspective and thank Heaven, they are conducting their own uprising.

It is to the everlasting credit of the three trustees who voted down the appearance of Laski—although they couldn't make it stick.

The three are Robert Dryden, Palmer Svalstad and Rex Hall.

We recommend that a word of encouragement—either written or spoken—given to these men will be a solid vote for campus sanity.

Meanwhile, a taxpayers' group has been formed in the mid-Grossmont district to publicly oppose such ridiculous campus activity.

And for the record: a youth who had applied to this publication for employment and had been given a tentative starting date, took part in bringing Laski to the Grossmont campus. The applicant has been informed that his application has been rejected as a result—and let the reds squawk about that!

One trustee said recently that the small, groups of strident oddments in the educational processes are so effective, that trustees often forget that there are any normal people in the district at all.

Le's convince them there are more of us than there are kooks.

To The Outside World

Hi again, and welcome to Mount Miguel's girl and the gab column.

All events went smoothly at the second half of the San Diego speech tournament last weekend. Judges arrived on time and all went according to schedule except for a few mistakes in addition. Truly amazing!!! The participants of the competition found it hard to believe that this was the same tournament of a month ago when some of the speakers waited over an hour for their judge. Congratulations are in order for Judy Parker, taking second place in dramatic interpretation and Mary O'Brien, for a third place in poetry interpretation.

* * *

In the sports field M. M. has been doing exceedingly well. Both wrestling and basketball teams are undefeated in league play as of now.

* * *

The wrestling team comes on against Monte Vista this Friday and the consensus of opinion is that the Monarchs provide tough opposition.

From the track viewpoint, M. M. boys are carrying the load there also. Terry Torgerson, Frank Gilbert and Marvin Hodge have qualified for spots in the indoor track meet February 4 at the San Diego Sports Arena. Terry will be competing with other high schoolers from city and county in the 600-yard dash with Mowrin as his alternate. Frank's specialty is the 640-yard relay. Here's to fleet feet!!!

Mount Miguel would like to extend a warm welcome to Senior Philip Bagley and Sophomore Brenda Thompson as newcomers to the Spring Valley area. Hope you enjoy 1967 with the Matadors.

My philosophy for the week (Finals approach. (I think that speaks for itself.)

Cigarette smokers are estimated to have a 70 per cent higher risk of early death from heart disease than do nonsmokers.

Pamela, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Lanier, 6941 Wyoming L.M., is now eligible for possible state and national scholarship awards. Her test also earned her a special designed silver charm from General Mills sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The national winner — the 1967 All American Homemaker of Tomorrow — will be announced at a dinner in Williamsburg. She will be chosen from the state winners on the basis of original test score plus personal observation and interviews during the tour. Her award will be an increase in her scholarship to $5,000. Eighteen million Americans have stopped smoking cigarettes according to U.S. Public Health Service estimates. Their risk of heart attack will soon drop to the level of nonsmokers, says San Diego County Heart Ass'n says.

Women do not start smoking as early, do not inhale as deeply, and have not smoked as long as men, your Heart Association points out. But the closer women's smoking habits approach those of men, the closer do their disease and death rates reach the levels recorded for men.

Multiple Reasons Accountable In Income Tax Refund Delays

Thousands of Federal income tax refunds for California taxpayers were held up last year because these taxpayers filed inaccurate or incomplete returns.

Failure to put a social security number on the return or putting down an inaccurate number delayed more refunds than any other one reason says the Internal Revenue Service.

Other reasons given were taxpayers' failure to sign returns, omission of W-2 withholding statements and failure to include supporting schedules and forms required for certain expense items.

This year, with the advent of full automatic data processing, it becomes more important than ever that returns be complete and accurate. In the past, it was sometimes possible to reason the intent of the taxpayer, thereby avoiding sending the return back for correction. The machine will be unable to "reason"; it asks that the taxpayers follow filing instructions as closely as applicable.

Assistance is available from your local Internal Revenue office in person, at the Taxpayers Assistance counter, or by telephone.

It is a good idea, IRS advises, to set a return aside for a day or two after it has been prepared and before mailing it. It may be possible to check out errors that can occur in the sometimes hectic effort of getting he facts on paper.

Area Dodge Dealer In New Location

A well-known area auto dealer, Carl Burger Dodge and Carl Burger Leasing, Inc., have moved to new facilities at Highway 80 and Jackson Drive in La Mesa.

The move was completed last last weekend when all operations were transferred from 7950 La Mesa Boulevard where the dealership has been located since 1960.

The new 4-acre facility is one of the largest, most modern Dodge dealerships in Southern California. It features paint and body shop, attractive showrooms elevated so they can be seen easily from Highway 80, and a used car lot with six times the capacity of the present one.

Carl Burger began his association with Dodge 26 years ago when he joined his father at San Diego's original Dodge dealership, C. A. Gray in downtown San Diego. In 1952, he opened his own dealership on La Mesa Boulevard, and then moved to his two-corner location in La Mesa in 1960.

The new location is just a block from Handyman and will provide free shuttle service to nearby Grossmont Shopping Center for the convenience of customers.
